FRENZIED FINANCE.

What a Kansas Man Alleges He Saw Pulled Off.

Here is an incident that a Chanute man tells as having occurred in a certain Kansas town. He was in the ticket office and watched the proceedings.

A man came up to the window and asked for a ticket to Kansas City, inquiring the price.

"Two twenty-five," said the agent. The man dug down into a well-worn pocketbook and fished out a bill. It was a bank-note for $2. It was also all the money he had.

"How soon does this train go?" he inquired.

"In fifteen minutes," replied the agent.

The man hurried away. Soon he was back with three silver dollars, with which he bought a ticket.

"Pardon my curiosity," said the ticket seller, "but how did you get that money? It isn't loan, for I see you have disposed of the two-dollar bill."

"That's all right," said the man. "No, I didn't borrow. I went to a pawnshop and soaked the bill for $1.50. Then as I started back here I met an old acquaintance, to whom I sold the pawn ticket for $1.50. I then had $3 and he has the pawn ticket for which the two-dollar bill stands as security."

Still Time.

A long-haired man walking alone the street met a little boy, who asked him the time.

"Ten minutes to nine," said the man.

"Well," said the boy, "at nine o'clock get your hair cut." And he took to his heels and ran, the agrieved one after him.

"Turning the corner, the man ran into a policeman, nearly knocking him over.

"What's up?" said the policeman. The man, very much out of breath, said: "You see that young urchin running along there? He asked me the time, and I told him 'Ten minutes to nine,' and he said, 'At nine o'clock get your hair cut.'"

"Well," said the policeman, "what are you running for? You've got eight minutes yet."

A Burned Child—Richard A. Ballinger, Secretary of the Interior, tells of his first law case which he had at Kankakee, Ill. "I had hung out my shingle a good while before any client arrived," he said.

"Finally, one came. He was a weak, meek being whom three determined women had wedded in rapid succession, and he was being tried for bigamy. As all of the wives appeared against him we lost the case, and he got a term of two years, but this did not seem to worry him—in fact, he seemed anxious for more. He was taken to the penitentiary, and just before his term ended I got a letter from him. 'Do you think,' the bigamist asked anxiously, 'it will be safe for me to come out?'"

SOUNDS LIKE HAY.

Simpson-Jones just told me that he buys his cigars by the box.

Sampson—"Don't you believe it, he buys them by the bale."

The Fishy Doctor and the Babe! The old physician is an enthusiastic angler in every sense of the term.

While on his way home from a fishing trip he received an emergency call. The proud newly made father was impatient to have the child weighed, but couldn't find the steelyards; so the physician had to use the pocket scales with which he weighed his fish.

"Great Scott, doctor!" exclaimed the father as he saw the pointer go up. "Thirty-seven and a half pounds!"

Anything But That.

"You're a liar, and a thief, and a scoundrel!"

"Anything else?"

"I can't think of anything else right now."

"Thanks, I was afraid you were going to say I was stupid."

PROOF.

Mrs. Wagon—Oh
